Mountain Senses Blend

(heather, lemon balm and common self-heal)

From the volatile aromas of this Infusion, reach out the thoughts of Miguel Torga. When drunk hot, it "describes" the rugged mountains of the interior of Portugal.

A series of sensations in a single infusion 100% biological, which allow you to taste the sweet taste of common self-heal, the citric notes of lemon balm or the vigorous taste of heather.

Consume it hot, but also cold, and start an unforgettable sensory journey.

E HISTÓRIA

Made of carqueja my wanderer steps
Through woods, meadows, scrublands...
I lost myself in country memories,
Of the interchangeable days,
In the aromatic hodgepodge
Of the smells and flavours,
Of friends, of loves
Wrapped in borrowed dreams,
When Grandma prepared the infusion,
Like someone who embroiders days of enchantment.
I remember well the mint - common,
Its fresh and sweet fragrance...
No, I'm not lost!
I just found myself,
In a subtle return to childhood

In the morning mist,
When the sun bends,
And caresses the mastic thyme.
And that's when I breathe
The mellow hours,
The mild aromas of walnut,
Enamored, next to you...
And tranquility seduces me.
My laurel eyes are of peace,
And when I sing,
My voice is an infusion of fresh notes,
So it fits the whole world in me,
For the good she does me,
In every desired sip,
The measure of time has no end.
